Isidore Snapper's Notes for Memoirs, 1889-1973 Isidore Snapper, 2004 A Classified Bibliography of the History of Dutch Medicine 1900-1974 G.A. Lindeboom, 2012-12-06

In some periods of the past Netherlands medicine has played a major role in the evolution of European medicine today its history still enjoys much interest even at the other side of the Ocean In this bibliography it has been my endeavour to compile references for all that has been written on the history of Dutch medicine in our country and elsewhere in our age The main concern of this work is with the medicine of the Northern Netherlands However before the end of the sixteenth century the Northern and Southern Netherlands were not yet divided into two separate countries they were still politically one and for the greater part spoke the same Flemish language So before their separation the present day Belgium and Netherlands also had a common medical history Therefore many entries have been included which bear on early and sometimes later Flemish medicine but it has not been the intention to strive for completeness in this respect

The Album Amicorum of Jacob Heyblocq Jacob Heyblocq, 1998 Jacob Heyblocq 1623-1690 began his Album Amicorum in 1645 following the custom of the day in which university students kept small books for collecting inscriptions and other contributions from professors fellow students compatriots in foreign lands and other people they met Through his position as teacher and later headmaster at the Latin School in Amsterdam and his active participation in literary circles Heyblocq's album became the richest example of its kind with a wealth of contributions from famous artists eminent scholars and prominent poets This extraordinary set reproduces the complete Album Amicorum in color A second volume includes an introduction and transcriptions translations paraphrases and notes including biographical information on the contributors for each of the album entries

The Doctors' Metabolic Diet William F. Kremer, Laura Kremer, 1975

Remembering Jewish Amsterdam Philo Bregstein, Johanna Katherina Barends, 2004 This book consists of fragments of 77 interviews with Holocaust survivors who talk about their life in Amsterdam before the war The authors use this rich material to compose a collective mosaic of memories that provide a fascinating view of Jewish life in Amsterdam during the years between 1900 and 1940 By dividing the material into chapters dealing with such topics as professions religion housing conditions emancipation Jews and Gentiles and immigration it becomes clear how many opinions on these subjects existed within the community Amsterdam from the 17th century until the German occupation in 1940 and shows that for centuries it was one of the most important communities in Western Europe While the Holocaust which claimed the lives of three quarters of the Amsterdam Jews casts a shadow over the memories of the interviewees these testimonies recreate the spirit of time and place and present a vivid picture of a little known past erased by war
