Discipline Achievement And Race Is Zero Tolerance The Answer:

Discipline, Achievement, and Race Augustina H. Reyes, 2006 Fifty years after Brown v Board of Education inequalities in public education are evident in the number of Black and Latino students who are held back fail to graduate from high school or have been removed from school by unforgiving zero tolerance discipline policies Augustina H Reyes contends that when ineffective zero tolerance discipline policies disproportionately remove minority and low income students from schools the very roots of a democracy are threatened It is important for educators to understand the effects of zero tolerance discipline policies on low income students at risk students special education students and students of color It is equally important that educators critically investigate the effects of zero tolerance discipline policies re evaluate the use of these policies in public schools Discipline Achievement and Race offers a comprehensive analysis of policy and practice and recommends solutions to the exclusionary discipline policies of zero tolerance It will be of interest to teachers principals and assistant principals counselors and concerned parents Book jacket

The School-to-Prison Pipeline Catherine Y. Kim, Daniel J. Losen, Damon T. Hewitt, 2010-10-15 An in depth analysis of the legal entry points and remedies in the school to prison pipeline The school to prison pipeline is an emerging trend that pushes large numbers of at risk youth particularly children of color out of classrooms and into the juvenile justice system The policies and practices that contribute to this trend can be seen as a pipeline with many entry points from under resourced K 12 public schools to the over use of zero tolerance suspensions and expulsions and to the explosion of policing and arrests in public schools The confluence of these practices threatens to prepare an entire generation of children for a future of incarceration In this comprehensive study of the relationship between American law and the school to prison pipeline co authors Catherine Y Kim Daniel J Losen and Damon T Hewitt analyze the current state of the law for each entry point on the pipeline and propose legal theories and remedies to challenge them Using specific state based examples and case studies the authors assert that law can be an effective weapon in the struggle to reduce the number of children caught in the pipeline address the devastating consequences of the pipeline on families and communities and ensure that our public schools and juvenile justice system further the goals for which they were created to provide meaningful safe opportunities for all the nation s children

Lockdown High Annette Fuentes, 2013-02-12 In the dozen years since the Columbine High School shootings school violence has fallen steadily Yet as Annette Fuentes visits schools across America she finds metal detectors and drug tests for aspirin police profiling of students with no records arbitrary expulsions teachers carrying guns and all seeing electronic surveillance Her moving stories will astonish readers as she makes the case that our public schools reflect a society with an unhealthy fixation on crime and violence

Restorative Justice in Urban Schools Anita Wadhwa, 2015-11-19 The school to prison pipeline is often the path for marginalized students particularly black males who are three times as likely to be suspended as White students This volume provides an ethnographic portrait of how educators can implement restorative justice to build positive school cultures and address disciplinary problems in a more corrective and less punitive manner Looking at the school to prison pipeline in a historical context it analyzes current issues facing schools and communities and ways that restorative justice can improve behavior and academic achievement By practicing a critical restorative justice educators can reduce the domino effect between suspension and incarceration and foster a more inclusive school climate Advancing Black Male Student Success From Preschool Through Ph.D. J.
