Know it All, Find it Fast Robert John Duckett, Bob Duckett, Peter Walker, Christine Donnelly, 2008 There is a queue the phone is ringing the photocopier has jammed and your enquirer is waiting for a response You are stressed and you can feel the panic rising Where do you go to find the information you need to answer the question promptly and accurately Answering queries from users is one of the most important services undertaken by library and information staff Yet it is also one of the most difficult least understood subjects There are still very few materials available to help frontline staff often paraprofessionals develop their reader enquiry skills This award winning sourcebook is an essential guide to where to look to find the answers quickly It is designed as a first point of reference for library and information practitioners to be depended upon if they are unfamiliar with the subject of an enquiry or wish to find out more It is arranged in an easily searchable fully cross referenced A Z list of around 150 of the subject areas most frequently handled at enquiry desks Each subject entry lists the most important information sources and where to locate them including printed and electronic sources relevant websites and useful contacts for referral purposes The authors use their extensive experience in reference work to offer useful tips warn of potential pitfalls and spotlight typical queries and how to tackle them This new edition has been brought right up to date with all sources checked for currency and many new ones added The searchability is enhanced by a comprehensive index to make those essential sources even easier to find saving you valuable minutes Readership Offering quick and easy pointers to a multitude of information sources this is an invaluable reference deskbook for all library and information staff in need of a speedy answer in reference libraries subject departments and other information units Me, Me, Me Jon Lawrence, 2019-09-01 Many commentators tell us that in today's world everyday life has become selfish and atomised that individuals live only to consume But are they wrong In Me Me Me Jon Lawrence re-tells the story of England since the Second World War through the eyes of ordinary people including his own parents to argue that in fact friendship family and place all remain central to our daily lives and whilst community has changed it is far from dead He shows how in the years after the Second World War people came increasingly to question custom and tradition as the pressure to conform to societal standards became intolerable And as soon as they could millions escaped the closed face to face communities of Victorian Britain where everyone knew your business But this was not a rejection of community per se but an attempt to find another new way of living which was better suited to the modern world Community has become personal and voluntary based on genuine affection rather than proximity or need We have never been better connected or able to sustain the relationships that matter to us Me Me Me makes that case that it's time we valued and nurtured these new groups rather than lamenting the loss of more real forms of community it is all too easy to hold on to a nostalgic view of the past The Routledge

Companion to Architecture and Social Engagement Farhan Karim, 2018-05-11 Socially engaged architecture is a broad and emerging architectural genre that promises to redefine architecture from a market driven profession to a mix of social business altruism and activism that intends to eradicate poverty resolve social exclusion and construct an egalitarian global society The Routledge Companion to Architecture and Social Engagement offers a critical enquiry of socially engaged architecture s current context characterized by socio economic inequity climate change war increasing global poverty microfinance the evolving notion of professionalism the changing conception of public and finally the growing academic interest in re visioning the social role of architecture Organized around case studies from the United States Brazil Venezuela the United Kingdom South Africa Rwanda Burkina Faso Nigeria Nepal Pakistan Iran Thailand Germany Australia Taiwan and Japan the book documents the most important recent developments in the field By examining diverse working methods and philosophies of socially engaged architecture the handbook shows how socially engaged architecture is entangled in the global politics of poverty reconstruction of the public sphere changing role of the state charity and neoliberal urbanism The book presents debates around the issue of whether architecture actually empowers the participators and alleviates socio economic exclusion or if it instead indirectly sustains an exploitive capitalism Bringing together a range of theories and case studies this companion offers a platform to facilitate future lines of inquiry in education research and practice Catalog of Visual Media Suburban Library System (Burr Ridge, Ill.).
