Brian Haynes, 2018-02-27 Now in its fifth edition this classic introduction to the practice and teaching of evidence based medicine is written for busy clinicians at any stage of their career who want to learn how to practise and teach evidence based medicine EBM It is short and practical emphasizing direct clinical application of EBM and tactics to practise and teach EBM in real time The online toolkit includes Critical appraisal worksheets Educational prescription Pocket Cards EBM calculators Educational Prescriptions Clinical Questions log Self evaluations Thoroughly updated with examples from latest evidence studies Revised electronic ancillaries now available online Expanded coverage of audit and measuring quality improvement Teaching moments now indexed for easy reference New contributing authors Reena Pattani and Areti Angeliki Veroniki Evidence Based Pathology and Laboratory Medicine Alberto M. Marchevsky, Mark Wick, 2011-07-01 Focusing on practical patient related issues this volume provides the basic concepts of Evidence Based Medicine EBM as they relate to Pathology and Laboratory Medicine and presents various practical applications It includes EBM concepts for use in the identification of cost effective panels of immunostains and other laboratory tests and for improvement of diagnostic accuracy based on the identification of selected diagnostic features for particular differential diagnosis EBM concepts are also put forth for use in Meta analysis to integrate the results of conflicting literature reports and use of novel analytical tools such as Bayesian belief networks neural networks multivariate statistics and decision tree analysis for the development of new diagnostic and prognostic models for the evaluation of patients This volume will be of great value to pathologists who will benefit from the concepts being promoted by EBM such as levels of evidence use of Bayesian statistics to develop diagnostic and other rules and stronger reliance on hard data to support therapeutic and diagnostic modalities Handbook of Medical Sociology, Sixth Edition Chloe E. Bird, Peter Conrad, Allen M. Fremont, Stefan Timmermans, 2010-11-29 The latest version of an important academic resource published about once a decade since 1963 Curriculum-Based Library Instruction Amy Blevins, Megan Inman, 2014-09-26 The rampant nature of technology has caused a shift in information seeking behaviors In addition current trends such as evidence based medicine and information literacy mean that one time instructional sessions cannot provide our patrons with all of the skills they need For this reason many librarians are working to develop curriculum based instruction that is semester long or consisting of many sessions throughout an academic program In addition to teaching librarians are also becoming embedded in the curriculums they support by serving as web based course designers problem based learning facilitators or members of curriculum committees Although it is fairly obvious that library instruction is important and that librarians should be equipped to provide this instruction the majority of ALA accredited programs offer only one course on library instruction the courses are only available as electives and they are often only offered once a year Librarians need to gain their instructional experiences through real life experiences mentors and of course books like this one Many books commonly discuss one shot sessions and provide tips for getting the most out of that type of instruction There are not as many that discuss curriculum based instruction in a section let alone an entire book Curriculum Based Library Instruction From Cultivating Faculty Relationships to Assessment highlights the movement beyond one shot instruction sessions specifically focusing on situations where academic librarians have developed curriculum based sessions and or become involved in curriculum committees This volume describes and provides examples of librarians varied roles in the curriculum of education programs These roles include semester long or multi session instructor web based course designer problem based learning facilitator and member of a curriculum committee In addition to describing the roles that librarians have in supporting curriculum the book describes how to carry out those roles with sections devoted to adult learning theory teaching methods developing learning objectives and working with faculty to develop curriculum Examples of library sessions devoted to information literacy evidence based practice information literacy and biomedical informatics are included This book is not limited to one mode of delivering information and covers examples of face to face distance and blended learning initiatives
