Evocative Objects Sherry Turkle, 2011-09-30 Autobiographical essays framed by two interpretive essays by the editor describe the power of an object to evoke emotion and provoke thought reflections on a cello a laptop computer a 1964 Ford Falcon an apple a mummy in a museum and other things to think with For Sherry Turkle We think with the objects we love we love the objects we think with In Evocative Objects Turkle collects writings by scientists humanists artists and designers that trace the power of everyday things These essays reveal objects as emotional and intellectual companions that anchor memory sustain relationships and provoke new ideas These days scholars show new interest in the importance of the concrete This volume's special contribution is its focus on everyday riches the simplest of objects an apple a datebook a laptop computer are shown to bring philosophy down to earth The poet contends No ideas but in things The notion of evocative objects goes further objects carry both ideas and passions In our relations to things thought and feeling are inseparable Whether it's a student's beloved 1964 Ford Falcon left behind for a station wagon and motherhood or a cello that inspires a meditation on fatherhood the intimate objects in this collection are used to reflect on larger themes the role of objects in design and play discipline and desire history and exchange mourning and memory transition and passage meditation and new vision In the interest of enriching these connections Turkle pairs each autobiographical essay with a text from philosophy history literature or theory creating juxtapositions at once playful and profound So we have Howard Gardner's keyboards and Lev Vygotsky's hobbyhorses William Mitchell's Melbourne train and Roland Barthes pleasures of text Joseph Cevetello's glucometer and Donna Haraway's cyborgs Each essay is framed by images that are themselves evocative Essays by Turkle begin and end the collection inviting us to look more closely at the everyday objects of our lives the familiar objects that drive our routines hold our affections and open out our world in unexpected ways

The Monumental Challenge of Preservation Michele Valerie Cloonan, 2023-08-15 The enormous task of preserving the world's heritage in the face of war natural disaster vandalism neglect and technical obsolescence The monuments movable immovable tangible and intangible of the world's shared cultural heritage are at risk War terrorism natural disaster vandalism and neglect make the work of preservation a greater challenge than it has been since World War II In The Monumental Challenge of Preservation Michele Cloonan makes the case that at this critical juncture we must consider preservation in the broadest possible contexts Preservation requires the efforts of an increasing number of stakeholders In order to explore the cultural political technological economic and ethical dimensions of preservation Cloonan examines particular monuments and their preservation dilemmas The massive Bamiyan Buddhas blown up by the Taliban in 2001 are still the subject of debates over how or whether to preserve what remains and the U S National Park Service has undertaken the complex task of preserving the symbolic and often ephemeral objects that visitors leave at the Vietnam Veterans Memorial to take just two of the many examples described in the book Cloonan also considers the ongoing genocide and cultural genocide in Syria the challenges of preserving our digital heritage the dynamic between original and copy efforts to preserve the papers and architectural fragments of the architect Louis Sullivan and the possibility of sustainable preservation In the end Cloonan suggests we are what we preserve and don't preserve Every day we make preservation decisions individually and collectively that have longer term ramifications than we might expect Transformative Objects and the Aesthetics of Play Lynn M.

Somers, 2024-12-26 This book considers the sculpture of Louise Bourgeois 1911-2010 in light of psychoanalyst D W Winnicott's 1896-1971 radical ideas regarding transitional objects potential space and play offering a model for exploring the complex and psychologically evocative work Bourgeois produced from 1947 to 2000 Critical concepts from British object relational theories destruction reparation integration relationality and play drawn from the writings of Winnicott Melanie Klein Marion Milner and Christopher Bollas among others bear upon the decades long study of psychoanalysis Bourgeois brought to her sculptural production that was symbolic metaphorical and most importantly useful The book demonstrates how Bourgeois's transformative sculptural objects and environments are invested in object relations both psychical and tangible and explores Bourgeois's contention that the observer physically engage with the intricate sculptural objects and architectural spaces she produced Each chapter focuses on a key body of work Femme Maison Personages Lairs Janus and Cells examining how these imaginative and playful objects are staged as embodied encounters in space and time to invoke the mutuality reciprocity and ambivalence of our object relationships Weaving a tapestry of aesthetic cultural and psychological encounters Transformative Objects and the Aesthetics of Play addresses critical relationships among Bourgeois's work and that of other artists from Pieter Brueghel to Eva Hesse It brings together practical archival and theoretical material offering close examinations of historically situated objects and analyses of their complex affects and spatiality Gathering critical perspectives from psychoanalysis cultural analysis feminist queer literary and affect studies the book extends its specific art historical scope to investigate the crucial roles that art and cultural experience assume in everyday life Borrowed objects and the art of poetry Denis Ferhatovic, 2019-03-26 This study examines Exeter riddles Anglo Saxon biblical poems Exodus Andreas Judith and Beowulf in order to uncover the poetics of spolia an imaginative use of recycled fictional artefacts to create sites of metatextual reflection Old English poetry famously lacks an explicit ars poetica This book argues that attention to particularly charged moments within texts especially those concerned with translation transformation and the layering of various pasts yields a previously unrecognised means for theorising Anglo Saxon poetic creativity Borrowed objects and the art of poetry works at the intersections of materiality and poetics balancing insights from thing theory and related approaches with close readings of passages from Old English texts Things Worth Keeping Christine Harold, 2020-06-09 A timely examination of the attachments we form to objects and how they might be used to reduce waste Rampant consumerism has inundated our planet with pollution and waste Yet attempts to create environmentally friendly forms of consumption are often co-opted by corporations looking to sell us more stuff In Things Worth Keeping Christine Harold investigates the attachments we form to the objects we buy keep and discard and explores how these attachments might be marshaled to create less wasteful practices and balance our consumerist and ecological impulses Although all economies produce waste no system generates as much or has become so adept at hiding its excesses as today's mode of global capitalism This book suggests that managing the material excesses of our lives as consumers requires us to build on rather than reject our desire for and attraction to objects Increasing environmental awareness on its own will be ineffective at reversing ecological devastation Harold argues unless it is coupled with a more thorough understanding of how and why we love the things that imbue our lives with pleasure meaning and utility From Marie Kondo's method for decluttering that asks whether the things in our lives spark joy to the advent of emotionally durable design which seeks to reduce consumption and waste by increasing the meaningfulness of the relationship between user and product Harold explores how consumer psychology and empathetic design can transform our perception of consumer products from disposable to interconnected An urgent call for rethinking consumerism Things Worth Keeping shows that by recognizing our responsibility for the things we produce we can become better stewards of the planet Van Gogh on Demand Winnie Wong, 2022-12-22 Unsettles contemporary art's unspoken hierarchies and topples modernist and postmodernist assumptions about originality authenticity and authorship caa Reviews In a metropolis in south China lies Dafen an urban village that houses thousands of workers who paint van Goghs Da Vincis Warhols and other Western masterpieces for the world market producing an astonishing five million paintings a year Winnie Wong infiltrated this world first investigating the work of conceptual artists then working as a dealer apprenticing as a painter surveying wholesalers and retailers in Europe East Asia and North America establishing relationships with local leaders and organizing a conceptual art exhibition for the Shanghai World Expo The result is Van Gogh on Demand a fascinating book about a little known aspect of the global art world one that sheds surprising light on the workings of art artists and individual genius Wong describes an art world in which migrant workers propaganda makers dealers and international artists make up a global supply chain of art She examines how Berlin based conceptual artist Christian Jankowski who collaborated with Dafen's painters to reimagine the Dafen Art Museum unwittingly appropriated the work of a Hong Kong based photographer Michael Wolf She recounts how Liu Ding a Beijing based conceptual artist asked Dafen assembly line painters to perform at the Guangzhou Triennial styling himself into a Dafen boss Through such cases Wong shows how Dafen's painters force us to reexamine our preconceptions about the role of Chinese workers in redefining global art A fantastically detailed exploration of a topic which touches the heart of many of the issues surrounding China's economic rise South China Morning Post What Is Intelligence? Blaise Aguera y Arcas, 2025-09-23 What intelligence really is and how AI's emergence is a natural consequence of evolution It has come as a shock to some AI researchers that a large neural net that predicts next words seems to produce a system with general intelligence Yet this is consistent with a long held view among some neuroscientists that the brain evolved precisely to predict the future the predictive brain hypothesis In What Is Intelligence Blaise Ag arca y Arcas takes up this idea that prediction is fundamental not only to intelligence and the brain but to life itself and explores the wide ranging implications These include radical new perspectives on the computational properties of living systems the evolutionary and social origins of intelligence the relationship between models and reality entropy and the nature of time the meaning of free will the problem of consciousness and the ethics of machine intelligence The book offers a unified picture of intelligence from molecules to organisms societies and AI drawing from a wide array of literature in many fields including computer science and machine learning biology physics and neuroscience It also adds recent and novel findings from the author his research team and colleagues Combining technical rigor and deep up to the minute knowledge about AI development the natural sciences especially neuroscience and philosophical literacy What Is Intelligence argues quite against the grain that certain modern AI systems do indeed have a claim to intelligence consciousness and free will

Fashion Remains Marco Pecorari,2021-01-28 Fashion ephemera from catalogues and invitations to press releases have long been overlooked by the fashion industry and fashion academics Fashion Remains redresses the balance putting these objects centre stage and focusing on the wider creative practice of contemporary fashion designers photographers graphic designers make up artists and many more Fashion ephemera are considered not as disposable promotional devices but as windows into hidden networks of collaboration and value creation in the fashion system Taking an interdisciplinary approach Fashion Remains explores the unseen and privately circulated fashion ephemera produced by today s most prominent international fashion designers such as Margiela Yamamoto and Raf Simons Showcasing a unique archive of materials it focuses on Antwerp s avant garde fashion scene and reveals the potential of these ephemeral objects to evoke and call into question material and immaterial knowledge about the fashion industry s actors practices and ideologies
