Faith Seeking Understanding An Introduction To Christian Theology Third Ed:

Faith Seeking Understanding Daniel L. Migliore, 2014-08-08 A superb standard Christian theology text for nearly a quarter century Daniel Migliore's Faith Seeking Understanding explores all of the major Christian doctrines in freshly contemporary ways This third edition offers new FOR FURTHER READING suggestions at the end of each chapter a substantial expansion of the glossary and new material incorporated throughout including a section on Christians and Muslims Further the three imaginary theological dialogues culminating the book pointedly playful exchanges that have delighted countless readers are here joined by a fourth dialogue between Karl Barth and Friedrich Nietzsche on atheism All in all a new generation of students pastors and Christian educators eager to better understand the rich heritage central themes and contemporary challenges of Christian theology will find both guidance and stimulation in Migliore's updated work

Faith Seeking Understanding Daniel L. Migliore, 2004-06-14 Daniel Migliore's Faith Seeking Understanding has been a standard introduction to Christian theology for more than a decade The book's presentation of traditional doctrine in freshly contemporary ways its concern to hear and critically engage new voices in theology and its creative and accessible style have kept it one of the most stimulating balanced and readable guides to theology available This second edition of Faith Seeking Understanding features improvements from cover to cover Besides updating and expanding the entire text of the book Migliore has added two completely new chapters The first Confessing Jesus Christ in Context explores the unique contributions to Christian theology made by recent theologians working in the African American Asian American Latin American Hispanic feminist womanist and mujerista traditions The second new chapter The Finality of Jesus Christ and Religious Pluralism addresses the growing interest in the relationship of Christianity to other religions and their adherents Migliore's three delightful theological dialogues are followed by a new appendix an extensive glossary of theological terms making the book even more useful to students seeking to understand the history themes and challenges of Christian belief

Faith Seeking Understanding, Fourth ed. Daniel L. Migliore, 2023-05-31 An authoritative and beloved textbook updated for the current generation of theology students Daniel L. Migliore's classic theology textbook returns in a new edition revised and supplemented with fresh material Faith Seeking Understanding covers fundamental topics for budding theologians from biblical hermeneutics to the incarnation to the life of faith As in previous editions the material culminates in four imaginative dialogues between prominent thinkers to illustrate major theological debates In addition to updates throughout the text the fourth edition also includes a new introduction and an additional chapter on Christology Students will appreciate the textbook's accessible style comprehensive reading recommendations and glossary of theological terms

Speaking of God Robert D. Cornwall, 2023-01-30 Theology is a complex subject with many subdisciplines and is known for thick volumes with dense prose This book bucks that trend but hitting the basics briefly but carefully In this 50th volume of the Topical Line Drives series theologian and church historian Dr Robert D. Cornwall provides a clear introduction to the basics His approach is not to give you a set of beliefs about God but rather to provide you with an introductory foundation to the way Christians talk about God. Key concepts such as omnipotence, impassibility, transcendence, immanence, and yes, love, along with many others. The content is brief but carefully designed as a launching pad for further study. Read this book in order to make all your other theological reading more profitable. It will keep you from missing out because some of the basics were passed over or were obscured by extensive discussion. Besides individual reading, this volume is useful as an introductory reading in theology courses or for small groups in churches who would like to better understand their other curricula and more profitably discuss their ideas about God.

Theology and Religious Studies in Higher Education D.L. Bird, Simon G. Smith, 2009-01-22. Theology and religious studies co-exist in the majority of departments in higher education institutions within the UK, yet there has been very little debate or discussion on how these two disciplines relate to one another in this context and on a more general level. This new collection of essays aims to redress the balance and to add to fruitful discussion in this area. Including essays by some of today's leading academics on the sometimes contentious relationship between religious studies or the study of religions and theology, this volume is international in scope with contributions from scholars from the UK, USA, South Africa, Netherlands, Sweden, and Iran. Many of the essays offer a contextualised account of the evolving relationship between the disciplines. The contributors address such issues as the place of theology within today's universities, the problem of clashing methodologies in theology and religious studies, the possibility for a theological religious studies approaching the study of religions without theology, interdisciplinary approaches for bridging the theology religious studies divide, and the place of biblical studies in the theology religious studies debate.

Wonder as a New Starting Point for Theological Anthropology José Francisco Morales Torres, 2023-04-04. In Wonder as a New Starting Point for Theological Anthropology, Opened by the World, José Francisco Morales Torres constructs a new theological anthropology that begins with wonder. He contends that the visceral experience of wonder is an opening up of the human by an excess that saturates the world. This opening by excess points to a transforming receptivity as the basis of the person and to an extravagant generosity that grounds all creation. Thus, wonder, which is grounded in generous excess, is not only a gift but a demand; it calls for a liberative praxis that resists the forces that flatten the fullness of life into what is useful and profitable and that reduce the limitless worth of fellow humans to mere commodities to be exploited and exchanged at the altar of the idolatrous Market. Wonder reveals a primordial receptivity in the human person which demands of us an ethic of sustainability that does not reduce the other to commodity, a vulnerability that risks being opened by the other, a commitment to solidarity and liberation that resists the forces of an insatiable idolatrous Market that seeks only to steal and kill and destroy.

Faith Seeking Understanding Matthew Charles Ogilvie, 2001. How can doctrines be made intelligible within the context of our modern world? This book throws new light upon Lonergan's response to this challenge in his presentation of the functional specialty systematics within his Method in Theology. This book primarily aims to present a thorough understanding of systematics function We first investigate systematics specific function as a promotion of understanding of the mysteries of faith We then examine the need for and grounds of this functional specialty and we place systematics in relation to the other functional specialties within Lonergan's Method in Theology Of special concern to this work is an investigation of what Lonergan could have meant by explaining systematics function by reference to the statement of the First Vatican Council that human reason can attain an understanding of the mysteries both by analogy with what human reason naturally knows and by the interconnection of the mysteries with each other and with humanity's last end To make systematics function more intelligible we investigate the conditions prevailing in Catholic theology that prompted Lonergan to develop his theological method assess the value and place of systematics and evaluate Lonergan's presentation of systematics in relation to the goals he set himself in developing a theological method

An Introduction to Christian Theology Richard J. Plantinga, Thomas R. Thompson, Matthew D. Lundberg, 2022 Far from being solely an academic enterprise the practice of theology can pique the interest of anyone who wonders about the meaning of life Inviting readers on a journey of faith seeking understanding this introduction to Christian theology exploring its basic concepts confessional content and history emphasizes the relevance of the key convictions of Christian faith to the challenges of today's world Part I introduces the project of Christian theology and sketches the critical context that confronts Christian thought and practice today Part II offers a survey of the key doctrinal themes of Christian theology including revelation the triune God and the world as creation identifying their biblical basis and the highlights of their historical development before giving a systematic evaluation of each theme Part III provides an overview of Christian theology from the early church to the present Thoroughly revised and updated the second edition of An Introduction to Christian Theology includes a range of new visual and pedagogical features including images diagrams tables and more than eighty text boxes which call attention to special emphases observations and applications to help deepen student engagement with the themes and history of Christian theology

Theology as Construction of Piety David T. Ngong, 2013-12-10 This book argues that a primary purpose of theological discourses is to construct piety or spirituality If this is the case theologians need to constantly inquire into the kind of piety or spirituality which their work may construct Drawing from some important moments in the development of Christian theology such as the development of the Christian doctrine of God in the early church the role of material things in the Christianity of medieval Europe some elements of contemporary postliberal theology and the theology of inculturation in Africa the book argues that theological discourses that appear to be orthodox and innocuous may actually construct forms of piety that may diminish human flourishing The book therefore calls for an ethics of theology intended to ensure that the theologies we construct help in developing a piety that is conducive to human flourishing in the modern world especially for Africans who have suffered and continue to suffer unspeakable dehumanization The book proposes that a theology that may contribute to the flourishing of Africans in the modern world is one that constructs an interdisciplinary spirituality that takes both the spiritual and the scientific seriously

The Oxford Companion to Christian Thought Adrian Hastings, Alistair Mason, Hugh S. Pyper, 2000-12-21 Embracing the viewpoints of Catholic Protestant or Orthodox thinkers of conservatives liberals radicals and agnostics Christianity today is anything but monolithic or univocal In The Oxford Companion to Christian Thought general editor Adrian Hastings has tried to capture a sense of the great diversity of opinion that swirls about under the heading of Christian thought Indeed the 260 contributors who hail from twenty countries represent as wide a range of perspectives as possible Here is a comprehensive and authoritative though not dogmatic overview of the full spectrum of Christian thinking Within its 600 alphabetically arranged entries readers will find lengthy survey articles on the history of Christian thought on national and regional traditions and on various denominations from Anglican to Unitarian There is ample coverage of Eastern thought as well examining the Christian tradition in China Japan India and Africa The contributors examine major theological topics such as resurrection the Eucharist and grace as well as controversial issues such as homosexuality and abortion In addition short entries illuminate symbols such as water and wine and there are many profiles of leading theologians of non Christians who have deeply influenced Christian thinking including Aristotle and Plato and of literary figures such as Dante Milton and Tolstoy Most articles end with a list of suggested readings and the book features a large number of cross references The Oxford Companion to Christian Thought is an indispensable guide to one of the central strands of Western culture An essential volume for all Christians it is a thoughtful gift for the holidays

An Introduction to Christian Theology

Richard J. Plantinga, Thomas R. Thompson, Matthew D. Lundberg, 2010-03-18 Far from being solely an academic enterprise the practice of theology can pique the interest of anyone who wonders about the meaning of life Inviting readers on a journey of faith seeking understanding this introduction to Christian theology its basic concepts confessional content and history emphasizes the relevance of the key convictions of Christian faith to the challenges of today's world In the first part this book introduces the project of Christian theology and sketches the critical context that confronts Christian thought and practice today In a second part it offers a survey of the key doctrinal themes of Christian theology including revelation the triune God and the world as creation identifying their biblical basis and the highlights of their historical development before giving a systematic evaluation of each theme The third part provides an overview of Christian theology from the early church to the present

Faith Seeking Understanding Daniel L. Migliore, 1991 This timely stimulating introduction to Christian theology is both critically respectful of the church's classical theological heritage and critically open to the emphases of contemporary theology especially feminist black and Latin American liberation theologies

A Theology of Divine Vulnerability Peter Hooton, 2024-05-20 A Theology of Divine Vulnerability The Silence that Gives Light understands confidence in the idea of God to rest largely on three claims The first is that God is responsible in some quite fundamental way for the existence of the universe for the fact that there is anything at all The second is that God's own existence and essential goodness are not vitiated by the presence of evil in the world And the third is that God knows we are here and shares fully somehow in the joys and pains of transient life Peter Hooton considers these claims on the whole sympathetically He prefers to traditional Christian views of God s omnipotence a more nuanced understanding of God s power and draws on a rich plurality of voices to describe God as much more loving than wrathful as persuasive rather than coercive as more passible than impassible and the Christian s relationship with God as essentially a compassionate participation in the reality signified by the crucified and risen Christ World Christian Trends Ad30-ad2200 (hb) ,2001 Paperbound Books in Print ,1992

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2003 Contextual Christology L. H. Lalpekhlu,2007 With reference to Mizoram India

Paperbound Books in Print 1995 Reed Reference Publishing,R5ference Reed,1995-12 Freedom, Necessity, and the Knowledge of God Paul D. Molnar,2021-12-30 Paul D Molnar discusses issues related to the concepts of freedom and necessity in trinitarian doctrine He considers the implications of non conceptual knowledge of God by comparing the approaches of Karl Rahner and T F Torrance He also reconsiders T F Torrance s new natural theology and illustrates why Christology must be central when discussing liberation theology Further he explores Catholic and Protestant relations by comparing the views of Elizabeth Johnson Walter Kasper and Karl Barth as well as relations among Christians Jews and Muslims by considering whether it is appropriate to claim that all three religions should be understood to be united under the concept of monotheism Finally he probes the controversial issues of how to name God in a way that underscores the full equality of women and men and how to understand universalism by placing Torrance and David Bentley Hart into conversation on that subject Journal of Theology for Southern Africa ,2007
